T4032-YT, Payroll Deductions Tables – CPP, EI, and income tax deductions – Yukon

Effective
July 1, 2020

What's new as of July 1, 2020

The major changes made to this guide since the last edition are outlined.

This guide reflects some income tax changes recently announced will be effective July 1, 2020.

The Yukon budget, delivered on March 5, 2020, announced changes for the 2020 taxation year.

The Yukon Basic Personal Amount (BPAYT) has been changed to mirror the Federal Basic Personal Amount (BPAF).

To adjust for the first six months, a prorated calculation will apply for the remaining six months, commencing with the first payroll in July.

Starting July 1, 2020 the formula below will apply for BPAYT. The prorated amounts in the formula are $14,160 and the factor ($1,862 / $63,895).

The prorated formula is :

- Where  $NI^* \leq $150,473$ , BPAYT = $14,160
- Where  $$150,473 < NI^* < $214,368$ , BPAYT**=  $$14,160 - (NI^* - $150,473) \times ($1,862 / $63,895)$ ***
- Where  $NI^* \geq $214,368$ , BPAYT = $12,298

* Variable NI represents Net Income

** If the BPAYT has three or more digits after the decimal point, increase the second digit after the decimal point by one if the third digit is five or more, and drop the third digit. If the third digit after the decimal point is less than five, drop the third digit

*** Note that there is no rounding on this division

The Yukon Claim Code Chart has been removed as the BPAYT will be unique to each employee's annual income.

Given the current situation with COVID-19 pandemic we understand that employers are facing unique challenges. For the remainder of 2020 the CRA will expect this change to be implemented on a best efforts basis.

Who should use this guide?

This guide is intended for the employer and the payer. It contains tables for federal and territorial tax deductions, CPP contributions and EI premiums. It will help you determine the payroll deductions for your employees or pensioners.

For more information on deducting, remitting, and reporting payroll deductions, go to the following employers' guides:

Note

You may want to refer to the 2019 edition of Payroll Deductions Tables until the end of 2020 to resolve any pensionable and insurable earnings review (PIER) deficiencies that we identify in processing your 2019 T4 return.

What if your pay period is not in this guide?

This guide contains the most common pay periods: weekly, biweekly (every two weeks), semi-monthly, and monthly. If you have unusual pay periods, such as daily (240 working days), or 10, 13, or 22 pay periods a year, go to the Guide T4008, Payroll Deductions Supplementary Tables, or the Payroll Deductions Online Calculator (PDOC) to determine tax deductions.

Which provincial or territorial tax table should you use?

Before you decide which tax table to use, you have to determine your employee's province or territory of employment. This depends on whether or not you require the employee to report for work at your place of business.

If the employee reports for work at your place of business, the province or territory of employment is considered to be the province or territory where your business is located.

To withhold payroll deductions, use the tax table for that province or territory of employment.

If you do not require the employee to report for work at your place of business, the province or territory of employment is the province or territory in which your business is located and from which you pay your employee's salary.

For more information and examples, go to Chapter 1, "General Information" in Guide T4001, Employers' Guide – Payroll Deductions and Remittances.

Note

As an employer, you have to remit these deductions along with your share of CPP contributions.

For more information, go to Chapter 2, “Canada Pension Plan contributions” in Guide T4001, Employer’s Guide – Payroll Deductions and Remittances.

EI premiums for 2020

Maximum annual insurable earnings.....	$ 54,200
Premium rate (%) .....	1.58
Maximum annual employee premium.....	$ 856.36

You stop deducting EI when the employee reaches the maximum annual premium.

Note

As an employer, you have to remit these deductions along with your share of EI premiums.

For more information, go to Chapter 3, “Employment Insurance premiums” in Guide T4001, Employer’s Guide – Payroll Deductions and Remittances.

Personal tax credits returns (TD1 forms)

You may have to ask your employees or your pensioners to complete a federal and a territorial personal tax credits return using a federal Form TD1 and a territorial Form TD1.

For more information, go to Chapter 5, “Deducting income tax” in Guide T4001, Employers’ Guide – Payroll Deductions and Remittances.

Claim codes

The total personal amount an employee claims on a TD1 form will determine which claim code you use. The claim amounts that correspond to the federal claim codes are the same as the claim amounts that correspond to the territorial claim codes. Go to Chart 3 and Chart 4.

Explanation of claim codes

Claim code 0

This code represents no claim amount. If the federal claim code is “0” because the employee is a non-resident, the territorial claim code must also be “0.” This claim code may also be used if the employee indicated they have more than one employer or payer at the same time and have entered “0” on the front page of Form TD1 for 2020.

Claim codes 1 to 10

The claim code amounts do not appear on either the federal or the territorial TD1 form.

You match the “Total claim amount” reported on your employee’s or pensioner’s TD1 forms with the appropriate claim codes. Then, you look up the tax for the employee’s pay under the claim code in the federal and territorial tax tables for the pay period.

Indexing of claim codes amounts

The credits that apply to each federal and territorial claim code have been automatically changed in the tax tables by the indexing factor for the current year. If your employee did not complete the federal and territorial TD1 forms for 2020, you continue to deduct income tax using the same claim code that you used last year.

Chart 3 – 2020 federal claim codes

Note:

Due to the December 9, 2019 announcement, legislative changes to the Federal Basic Personal Amount, the Claim Code Chart cannot be produced with ranges, as was previously done. Accordingly, the Federal Claim Code Chart will not be produced with this edition.

Chart 4 – 2020 Yukon claim codes

Note:

Due to the March 5, 2020 announcement, legislative changes to the Yukon Basic Personal Amount, the Claim Code Chart cannot be produced with ranges, as was previously done. Accordingly, the Yukon Claim Code Chart will not be produced with this edition

Form TD1X, Statement of Commission Income and Expenses for Payroll Tax Deductions

If your employees want you to adjust their tax deductions to allow for commission expenses, they have to complete Form TD1X, Statement of Commission Income and Expenses for Payroll Tax Deductions.

You deduct tax from your employees' commission pay using the "Total claim amount" on their TD1 forms in the following situations:

- if your employees do not complete a Form TD1X or
- if they tell you in writing that they want to cancel a previously completed Form TD1X

How to use the tables in this guide

Use the tables in this guide to determine the CPP contributions, EI premiums, federal tax, and territorial tax that you will deduct from your employees' remuneration.

CPP tables (Section B)

The annual basic exemption is built into the CPP tables.

- Find the pages in Section B that correspond to your pay period
- To find the range that includes your employee's gross pay (this includes any taxable benefits), look down the "Pay" column
- In the column next to the "Pay" column, you will find the CPP contribution that you should withhold from your employee's pay

EI table (Section C)

- Find the page in Section C that corresponds to the "Insurable earnings" of your employee
- To find the range that includes your employee's insurable earnings, look down the "Insurable earnings" column. When you use the table in this guide to determine the EI premiums, look up the insurable earnings for the period not the gross remuneration
- In the column next to the "Insurable earnings" column, you will find the EI premium that you should withhold from your employee's pay

Tax deductions tables

If you are using the income tax tables in this guide to determine your employees' and pensioners' total tax deductions, you have to look up the amounts in the federal tax table and the territorial tax table.

To determine the total tax you deduct for the pay period, you must add the federal and territorial tax amounts.

Even if the period of employment for which you pay a salary is less than a full pay period, you must continue to use the tax deductions table that corresponds to your regular pay period.

Federal (Section D)

- Find the pages in Section D that correspond to your pay period
- To find the range that corresponds to your employee's taxable income (this includes any taxable benefits), look down the "Pay" column
- In the row under the applicable claim code, you will find the amount of federal tax that you should withhold from your employee's pay (for more information, go to the section called "Claim codes" and Chart 3)

Territorial (Section E)

- Find the pages in Section E that correspond to your pay period
- To find the range that includes your employee's taxable income (this includes any taxable benefits), look down the "Pay" column
- In the row under the applicable claim code, you will find the amount of territorial tax that you should withhold from your employee's pay (for more information go to the section called "Claim codes" and Chart 4)

Example

You are an employer in Yukon. Sara, your employee, earns $1,018 a week in 2020. She has a federal claim code 1 and a territorial claim code 1.

To determine Sara's federal tax deductions, you look at the weekly federal tax deductions table and find the range for her weekly salary, which is 1016-1024. The federal tax deduction for $1,018 weekly under claim code 1 is $106.10.

To determine Sara's territorial tax deductions, you use the weekly territorial tax deductions table. In the Yukon tax deductions table, the territorial tax deduction for $1,018 weekly under claim code 1 is $46.35.

Sara's total tax deduction is $152.45 ($106.10 + $46.35). This amount of taxes will be included in your remittance to us.

Additional information about payroll deductions

Deducting tax from income not subject to CPP contributions or EI premiums

We have built the tax credits for CPP contributions and EI premiums into the federal and territorial tax deductions tables in this guide. However, certain types of income, such as pension income, are not subject to CPP contributions and EI premiums. As a result, you will have to adjust the amount of federal and territorial income tax you are deducting.

To determine the amount of tax to deduct from income not subject to CPP contributions or EI premiums, use the Payroll Deductions Online Calculator, available at canada.ca/pdoc. On the "Salary calculation" and/or on the "Commission calculation" screen, go to Step 3 and select the "CPP exempt" and/or "EI exempt" option before clicking on the "Calculate" button.

Step-by-step calculation of tax deductions

You can use the following step-by-step calculations to calculate the tax deductions for any employee or pensioner who earns more than the maximum amounts included in the tax deductions tables.

The example shows you how to determine the amount of tax to deduct from all income.

However, if you design your own payroll program or spreadsheets to calculate tax deductions, do not use either of these calculations. Instead, go to Guide T4127, Payroll Deductions Formulas.
